

The Beatles

Use all the information on this page, and logic, to complete the chart

- George was the youngest Beatle, and Ringo was the oldest. He is three months older than Lennon.
- Ringo Starr was the drummer (percussionist). The other three Beatles were very versatile. They wrote the words and music for their songs. They sang and played lots of instruments. But they each had specialities: George was the best guitarist; John sang and was the most famous composer. But Paul is the most versatile: he composes words and music, has a good singing voice, and plays guitar and piano too!
- Ringo married once, but the other Beatles all married twice. All together, the Beatles had eight children. George and Ringo had just one each.
- John Lennon was assassinated in New York City in 1980. Now there is a memorial to him in Central Park, called Strawberry Fields. George Harrison died of cancer in 2001. The other two are still alive.
